

Recommended Readings

Christina Clark, PhD, will be presenting on the REDI Index, “a benchmarking measure of a company’s commitment to including religion as part of its overall diversity initiatives.” (Corporate Religious Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (REDI) Index)

Grossmeier, Jessica, PhD; Jessica has a soon-to-be-released book. She will be previewing spirituality and workplace case studies from her book at Summer Think Tank 2022. “Reimagining Workplace Well-being.” Pre-order Jessica’s book on Amazon.

Hennerman, T.; A New Approach to Faith at Work. Workforce Management, October 2004, Pp. 76-77; A discussion about legal issues relating to religious discrimination at the workplace.

Marschke, et al.; “Professionals And Executives Support A Relationship Between Organizational Commitment And Spirituality In The Workplace.” Journal of Business & Economics Research, Vol. 9; 8; August, 2009.

Mercandante, Linda, PhD; HealthyBeliefs.org: Blog Posts and articles by Dr Mercandante — She will be presenting her research at Summer Think Tank on the world views of the spiritual but not religious. (NBIR’s)

Stretcher, Victor, PhD; will present on the connections between purpose finding and spirituality at Think Tank drawing from his book: “Life On Purpose.”

Terry, Paul, PhD; “Do Faith Friendly Workplaces Increase Well-being?”, American Journal of Health Promotion, May 1, 2022.

Terry, Paul, PhD; “Faith, Health and Workplace Well-Being,” American Journal of Health Promotion, July 12, 2021.

Religion Stress and Longevity and other articles about “Friendship and Community” from the Blue Zones web site. Joel Spoonheim, of HealthPartners – a HERO member, will summarize this research at Summer Think Tank.

Spiritual Based Leadership Database. University of Arkansas, Walton College of Business. “This knowledge-base contains 33 full-length interviews with leaders from a diverse set of backgrounds, organizations, industries, and cultures who lead from a consciously held spiritual view of life.” See: “Research Protocol” for interview items.

The Spiritual Workplace Blog from the Spirit at Work Association. The first Austin based business to focus exclusively on workplace spirituality.